FEVER AND AGUE!!—1000's & 10,000's are now suffering under that Bane of Life, Fever and Ague, or Billious Intermittent Fever!—'ROWAND'S IMPROVED TONIC MIXTURE' is universally acknowledged, by the disenterested, to be the Great National Remedy—the only warranted, safe, sure, and radical cure—that never has failed, when properly used, to eradicate the disease, and also its immediate causes—restoring the natural feelings and elusticity of the constitution in a manner that nothing else will.

Believing the cash or ready pay system to be the cheapest and eventually the most profitable for the buyer as well as the seller, that principle will be adopted and strictly adhered to.—He does not wish to 'puff' and boast of his long residence and extensive acquaintance in New York—great facilities and extraordinary abilities in purchasing goods, &c.: or even say he will sell cheaper than any body else—but he does wish to say, his motto being "live and let live," and on the principle that a "nimble sixpence is better than a slow shilling," that he will sell "as cheap as the cheapest." the truth of which, he pledges himself to demonstrate to the entire satisfaction of every one who may favor him with a call. may22

THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY of New-York, No. 44 Wall street.—This Company, since its organization on the 1st February, 1843 (two years) has issued 1200 policies. The cost sm't received for premiums and interest on investments, $121,687; yielding a nett capital of $97,273, after paying all its losses and expenses. This accumulated capital is rapidly increasing by the 2d and 3d years' premiums now becoming due, and by a vastly extended and growing business. The eminent success and prosperity of this institution has placed it on a strong position. Its capital and resources are now so ample as to inspire confidence in its ability, and insure safety to its members.
The company is organized upon the most improved principles of Mutual Life Insurance, and offers very great advantages to whole Life Policies, or insurances for short periods, if continued till death; without incurring any personal responsibilities. At the expiration of every five years from the date of the first policy, (which will make the first division of profits be on the 1st of February, 1848) the whole of the profits will be divided among the insured in proportion to the amount of premiums paid by them, and will remain at their credit as an accumulating fund, payable at the decease of the life insured.
The progress of this institution thus far gives strong grounds for anticipating large dividends to its members at the stated periodical settlement, and equal to those of the most distinguished and successful Mutual Companies in Great Britain, where it is well known immense profits have been made.
The importance and utility of Life insurance is becoming a matter of deep interest with all classes of the community and is now occupying much of public attention, and beginning to make favorable impressions as to the great benefits to be derived from it; as the publi-hed monthly statement of lives insured by the company conclusively show
Merchants and trade speculators, civil, military and naval; clergymen and professional men generally; clerks, and persons in every station in society, may secure to their families in the event of death, a comfortable support and independence, by making, with this institution, a small annual investment for an insurance on their lives.
Pamphlets, explaining the principles, and showing the advantages of Life insurance, with the rates of premiums and forms of application, may be obtained at the office of this company, No. 44 Wall street, or any of its Agents.

The Rates of Insurance on One Hundred Dollars on a single life, for one year.

WHIG NOMINATION.

FOR DELEGATE TO CONGRESS

JAMES COLLINS

OF IOWA COUNTY.

U. S. Iron Steamer Michigan.

This beautiful and substantial vessel has been lying since Saturday in the Milwaukie river, near Douseman's warehouse. We visited her yesterday, and were much pleased with the politeness of her officers, and her appearance generally. Neatness, order and regularity pervade every part of her. Through the politeness of Mr. HIBBARD, Chief Engineer, we were furnished with the following description of the vessel:

Dimensions of U. S. Steamer Michigan.

Length over all, 170 feet; at water line, 162 feet; breadth of beam, 27 feet; depth of hold, 12 feet; plate iron bottom and sides, ¾ inch; upper works reduced to 5-16ths, 4-16ths and 3-16ths of an inch; ribs or frames, double T iron, 8 inches deep, 2 feet apart; side frames forward and aft of angle, from keel plate, ¾ inch thick.

The hull is divided into 3 separate compartments by iron bulkheads, each part entirely separate from the other except by water valves at the bottom. There are likewise 4 other iron bulkheads or partitions running from the berth deck, which is also of iron, to the bottom; thereby adding much to the strength and stability of the vessel. The engines are low pressure, designed by and after the patent of C. W. Copeland, Principal Engineer U. S. Navy. The diameter of cylinder is 66 inches, 8 feet stroke The boilers are of the modern low pressure kind. The whole was constructed by the eminent builders, Starkhouse & Tomlinson, of Pittsburgh, and is admitted by good judges to be equal if not superior to any thing of the kind in this country.

She is pierced for 14 guns, but at present carries but one 64 lb. Paixan gun on a pivot forward.

The following is a list of Officers of the U. S. Iron Steamer Michigan:

☞ We dropped in for a few minutes last evening at the Court House to witness the Dramatic Temperance Exhibition of Messrs. Hough & Scoville. We were happily disappointed. For although the press in other cities had favorably noticed their performances, still we attended, expecting little or nothing out of the ordinary course of travelling performers. But we were disappointed. Their exhibitions, we believe, when rightly understood, will receive universal approbation, and they deserve full and fashionable houses — Whatever may be said of the tendency of the drama generally, we think their performances cannot offend the sternest moralist, or the most delicate sensibility. There will be exhibitions for several successive days at the Court House at 7½ o'clock in the evening.

The various parts in the Drama of the Brothers were well sustained—in most cases, even to the life—and the acting was so admirable that it drew from the audience the most unbounded applause.—Indeed, we think we do not exceed the limits of proper encomium, when we pronounce the dramatic talent of this company well deserving a beneficent public patronage; and bestow upon all the injunction to go and see the performance to-night.

ARRIVAL OF NEW GOODS.—Our friend DAYAN has just returned from New York with one of the largest stocks of Goods ever brought into the Territory—such a stock as enables him to hold out inducements to his customers and citizens generally to give him a call.

MEXICO.—We find nothing more respecting war with Mexico, except a statement in a New Orleans paper, that letters were received by the Relampago from the city of Mexico of July 19—two days after Signor Conde said the declaration of war would be sent to Congress, and that no such declaration had been made. The next arrival will probably settle the question whether Mexico is blustering, or really intends war.

A RUNAWAY MATCH.—The New York Tribune says:—"A young married pair arrived in the city yesterday from Philadelphia, whose departure from thence was attended with a scene whose unpleasantness was aggravated by its publicity. As there will be all sorts of versions of the affair published, we deem it proper to state the facts. The bride is daughter of a wealthy and aristocratic shipping merchant in Philadelphia, and one of the most lovely and accomplished women in that city, where loveliness and accomplishments seem natural to the sex. The husband is a very respectable gentleman, every way, save in wealth, the equal of the lady. The marriage being opposed by the lady's father, was privately solemnized by a clergyman, yesterday morning, and the bridal party had just arrived at the river, to take passage for New York, when they were overtaken by a brother of the bride, who did not know of the marriage, and was led to believe that his sister had sacrificed herself. A rencontre ensued between him and the husband, during which he (the brother) drew a pistol. It was immediately taken from him and fired in the air by the groomsman, who was in attendance, and the parties separated by him and another gentleman. The husband then claimed an explanation with the brother—exhibited the marriage certificate and at once relieved his fears. The brother then ran for the father, who hastened to the boat, read the certificate, fretted a little, as old gentlemen are apt to do when called up too early in the morning, granted his blessing to the happy pair, and got ashore just as the line bell rang."

CALIFORNIA AND ITS RESOURCES.

We a day or two since gave a brief sketch of California, as gathered from several chapters of the "Exploring Expedition," by Capt. Wilkes. The subject is full of interest, and we therefore proceed to cull out a few more facts and statements. The visit, it should be remembered, was made in 1841. Capt. W. says that the greater part of the wealth of the people of California consists of live stock. The exportations on the average of years, are about one hundred & fifty thousand hides, and two hundred thousand arrobas of tallow. The standard price for the former is two dollars, while the latter is worth one dollar and fifty cents the arroba. A few beaver skins are obtained, which do not exceed two thousand, and are valued at two dollars each. From four to five hundred sea otter skins are brought in by American hunters, which are valued at thirty dollars each.

Wheat has been exported to the Russian posts, to the amount of twelve thousand bushels, of which the average price is about fifty cents a bushel. Of late, however, it has risen to two dollars and fifty cents, in consequence of the great drought that has prevailed. Among the exports may be enumerated about a thousand elk and deer skins, which are valued at from fifty cents to a dollar each. The whole merchantable products may be estimated at less than a million of dollars. The yield of wheat is remarkable, and in some places where the land is well situated, very large returns are received. Mr. Spears, of Yerba Buena, informed Capt. W. that he had delivered to an active American farmer thirty bushels of wheat for seed, at a time when it was difficult to obtain it, under an agreement that he should have the refusal of the crop at the market price. In the July following he delivered him three thousand bushels, and on its delivery he discovered that the farmer had reserved six hundred bushels for himself, and this, without estimating the loss from bad reaping and treading out with horses, would give one hundred and twenty for one.—This is not considered a fair criterion or average, as the land was remarkable for its richness and was well attended to; but Mr. Spear and several others assured him that the average would be as high as 80 bushels yielded for one planted.

Indian corn yields well, as also potatoes, beans and peas. The cultivation of vegetables is increasing rapidly, and supplies in these latter articles may be had in abundance and of the finest quality. The country appears to be well adapted to grapes. Those who have been tried at the mission yield most abundantly; and about two hundred casks, each of eighteen gallons, of brandy, and the same quantity of wine are made. The cultivation of the grape increases yearly, but is not sufficient for the country, as large quantities of foreign wines and liquors are imported, which pay an enormous duty.

The salmon fishery, if attended to, would, in the opinion of Capt Wilkes, be a source of considerable profit But the people are said to be indolent, and to live with as little trouble as possible. At the mission, coarse articles are manufactured, such as blankets and wearing apparel for the Indians. Soap and leather are also manufactured. There are in California, only two or three mills owned by foreigners — The mills in general use in the country, are composed of no more than two burr stones. To the upper stone a cross beam is secured, to which mule power is applied. In most of the instances there is to be found a mill in an apartment adjoining the kitchen, if not in it. The whole is as primitive as it well can be, although the Capt. has no doubt it answers all the wants of this rude and indolent people.

From all accounts, besides cattle, the country is well adapted to the raising of sheep, which simply require watching, as they can find plenty of nutritious food the whole year round; but there has been no attention paid to this sort of stock, and the wool is of very ordinary quality. The mutton is thought to be of very fine flavor. The usual price for a sheep is from one dollar and fifty cents to two dollars, when a choice is made for killing. Hogs are raised in some parts, and might be fed to great advantage on the acorns which are abundant on the hills where the land is not susceptible of cultivation. Pork may be packed at 3 dollars the hundred weight.—What adds to the facilities of doing this business, is the fact that large quantities of salt collect in the ponds in the dry season, which may be obtained for the expense of carting it.

The number of Indians is variously estimated at from 12,000 to 15,000; while others place them as low as 8000 to 9000. The principal part of these are the tribes on the Sacramento. The whites Capt. W. estimates at about 3000, with about 2000 more of mixed blood. The whole population of Upper California at the date of the visit, is given as about 13,000 souls. The health and robustness of the wild inhabitants seem remarkable and must be attributed to the fine climate, as well as to their simple diet. This consists of beef roasted on the coals, a few vegetables and the tortilla, which is a thin cake, made of corn meal, and baked upon a sheet of iron.—Throughout the whole country, both with the rich and poor, this is the general fare; but some few luxuries have been lately introduced, among which are rice and tea. The latter is used so sparingly, that the discoloration of the water is scarcely perceptible.

At the mission they live after the Spanish fashion. The children are, for the most part, left to take care of themselves, and run about naked and dirty. They are generally robust, and their relative number seem to be very great; thus, it is by no means uncommon to see families of fourteen and fifteen children; and an instance was mentioned of a woman near Yerba Buena, who had had twenty-six. A large number die from accidental falls from horses, with which from their earliest childhood they are accustomed to be engaged. They early become expert and fearless riders, and their skill is not confined altogether to the male sex; the women are almost equally expert. Families with numerous members are seldom met with who have not had to mourn the loss of several of their number from casualities of this kind.

Although the Californians are comparatively few in number, yet they have a distinctive charater. Descended from the old Spaniards, they are unfortunately found to have all their vices, without a proper share of their virtues; they are exceedingly fond of gambling, which is equally in favor with the male and female portion of the community. Their games consist in cards, dice, &c.

Their amusements are cock-fighting, bull and bear baiting, and dancing; these are the predominant occupations of their lives, always accompanied with excessive drinking. Parties of amusment, to which the surrounding population is invited, are frequent; these generally last for three days and rarely break up without some quarrels.

Weddings are particularly liable to these disorders, and at each of the three last that took place at and in the vicinity of Yerba Buena, previous to the visit there, a life was lost by the coccillo. This weapon is always worn, and is promptly resorted to in all quarrels.

The female portion of the community are ignorant, degraded, and the slaves of their husbands. They are very fond of dress, and will make any sacrifice, even their own honor to gratify it. The men have no trades, and depend for everything upon the Indians at the missions; some of whom are quite ingenious, both as carpenters and blacksmiths. The whites are so indolent, and withal have so much pride, as to make look upon all manual labor as degrading; in truth, they regard all those who work as beneath them; they in consequence, can never be induced to labor.—An anecdote was related to me of one who had been known to dispense with his dinner, although the food was but a few yards off, because the Indian was not at hand to bring it to him.—[Phil. Inq.

A SUGAR COATED PILL.—The editor of the Washington Union has a decided talent for explaining away a difficulty.—The way in which he tries to make the following morceau go down with Bancroft, is a pattern to the craft. It appears that some letter writer in Washington stated that after Bancroft had pronounced his eulogy upon Jackson he approached Mr. Ritchie, who exclaimed, "Bancroft, you are a humbug." Mr. Ritchie in an effort to explain away this unpleasant jog to the memory of the orator, uses the following simple and innocent little ruse Mr. Polk must rejoin in Mr. Ritchie's inimitable service:

"The letter writer wishes to create the impression, that the honors which General Jackson's memory has received, are all humbug; that Mr. Bancroft's oration is a humbug; that our paragraphs are humbugs; and therefore, that we openly and publicly addressed the remark which he notices, to the distinguished orator of the day. Now, why did not this letter writer add, that Mr. B. replied with some naivette, to the good humored railery, 'Humbug?' 'Yes,' was the jocular rejoinder, 'for you must have made the speech before you were asked to make it. Where, in the name of wonder, did you find time to write it afterwards? We then told him substantially, what we said next evening, on publishing his speech.

"By the humbug remark, which we addressed to Mr. B. we intended to express the surprise and the admiration which he had excited. It was the highest compliment that we could pay to his talents, tho' the good humored banter in which it was conveyed was rather coarse for the occasion."

OUR CANDIDATE FOR THE DELEGACY.—The Elkhorn Star thus alludes to the nomination of Col. JAMES COLLINS:

"At the Whig Territorial Convention, held at Madison on the 24th ultimo, Col. JAMES COLLINS, of Iowa county, was unanimously nominated as the Whig candidate for Delegate to Congress.—We have known Col. Collins by reputation for several years, but have had no personal acquaintance until the day of the nominations. He is one of the first settlers in the Territory and has been a distinguished member of the Legislature for several years: and what speaks well for the Colonel, he has usually been elected over a strong democratic majority.

"As far as our information extends, the nomination gives universal satisfaction to the Whig party, and we have strong reason to believe that he will be triumphantly elected."

EARLY RISING.—Next to temperance, a quiet conscience, a cheerful mind and active habits, I place early rising, as a means of health and happiness. I have barely words for the estimate I form of the sluggard, male or female, that has formed the habit of wasting the early prime of day in bed Putting out of the question the positive loss of life, and that too the most inspiring and beautiful part of the day, when all voices of nature invite man from his bed; leaving out of the calculation longevity has almost invariably been attended by early rising—to me, the late hour in bed presents an index to character, and an omen of ultimate hopes of the person who indulges in this habit.

DECIDEDLY GOOD.—"Where is the best house in ———?", said a gentleman on a steamer, addressing a person who he had been informed resided at the place indicated.

"The ——— House," was the decided response.—"That's the house where all the big bugs stop." Discovering, after a night of unrest, that his informant was the keeper of the house alluded to, he desired him to send his luggage to some house where the "bugs" were not so big.

AND PHOTOGRAPHIC ASSOCIATION.

INSTITUTED by the most eminent Artists in the United States, for the discountenancing of unskilful operators, and the diffusion of a refined taste for Daguereotype Pictures.

The Art Union have taken the suit of rooms
IN AUSTIN'S BRICK BLOCK
16 WATER STREET,
AS A
RENDEZVOUS, DEPOT, and DAGUEREOTYPE MINIATURE GALLERY.

At the rooms of the Association, the most thorough instructions will be given in this divine art, upon the most liberal terms; and these INIMITABLE MINIATURES taken single and in groups of an excellence for which the celebrity of the operators, and the standing of the Art Union area guaranty, and at as low prices as charged by the indifferent operators hereabout, or in any respectable gallery at the East.

They invite, most respectfully, the attention of the public, and especially of Artists, to the TONE, STYLE and FINISH of their Pictures, and particularly to the COLOR, which they claim to have the honor of introducing in this city, and their pretensions to which, to the exclusion of all other claimants, they fearlessly submit to the decision of the professors of the art, to all of which they are indebted for the reputation the Association enjoys in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New Orleans.

The exquisite colored Photographs are taken equally well in clear and cloudy weather, in from 10 to 25 seconds—another feature they claim to have introduced here, and which obviates the frowning brow, intense stare, and a rigid outline, that results invariably from being required to keep a steady look and fixed expression for one, two and three minutes.

Rooms open and miniatures taken from 8 A. M. to 6 P. M.

The Art Union will from time to time proceed to the adjacent towns to give instruction and take miniatures landscapes, houses, views of all kinds, copies of portraits, &c. &c., taken at all times upon the most liberal terms

Remember the Art Union Daguereotype Rooms are No. 16, in Austin's Brick Block East Water street, or what would be better, examine the specimens of the different operators in the city, and patronize those who evince the most skill and taste.

SAND'S SARSAPARILLA.—The removal of suffering has been the object of the philanthropist in every age of the world, but true principles of treating disease progressed but slowly for many thousand years, owing to the limited means of acquiring knowledge;—but since the introduction of the printing press and steam engine it may literally be said,—"Light has dawned upon the world," and the man of the nineteenth century possesses advantages which his fathers never did. In his general diffusion of knowledge, remedies have been sought after and discovered in the beautiful storehouse of the vegetable creation exactly calculated to combine with, neutralize and dissel the subtle poison which diffuses itself throughout the general system and prostrates man in the dust. Sand's Sarsaparilla, a purely vegetable preparation, has been thoroughly tested in a variety of diseases, and is from experience, known to be a safe and effectual cure for Scrotula or Enlargement of the Glands, Leprosy, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Eczema, Rheumatism, Palpitation of the Heart and other diseases originating in an impure or depraved state of the blood or derangement of the digestive organs. Original manuscripts of various certificates, letters, of the clergy, Magistrates and Lity, all confirming the previous statements, are constantly received, and will be cheerfully exhibited on application. Facts are recorded sufficiently clear and convincing to satisfy the most incredulous of the real merits of this invaluable medicine.

For further particulars and conclusive evidence of its superior value and efficacy, see pamphlets, which may be obtained of agents gratis. Prepared and sold, wholesale and retail, by A. B. Sands & Co., Druggists and Chemists, 273 Broadway. For sale also by

DEAFNESS CAN BE CURED.

From the Albany Argus

WONDERS WILL NEVER CEASE!?

Another remarkable cure of Deafness, performed by Scarpa's Acoustic Oil, in this city Let the case speak for itself

Albany, Feb 22d, 1844.

Mr Guthrie, 4 Stanwix Hall, Maiden Lane: Dear Sir—I owe you an immense debt of gratitude for inducing me to try Scarpa's compound Acoustic Oil I had been so very deaf for eight years this winter, that I could not hear conversation with an ear trumpet, without the voice being much raised. I have been using the Oil about six weeks in one ear that was far the worst, and with which I was almost totally deaf, and I am happy to inform you that I can now hear ordinary conversation without the trumpet. I feel that I would like to inform the whole deaf community of the astonishing effect of the above medicine I shall be pleased to see any person who may desire to call upon me, to make inquiries concerning my case. Yours, &c.

PROLAPSUS UTERI.

THIS troublesome disease is cured by the use of Hull's Utero Abdominal Supporter, from the many certificates in its favor we select only the following of Doctor Ashwell—After its successful trial in Guy's hospital, the following certificate was handed to Dr. Hall's London Agent, for public use:—

13 Devonshire Square, London, Mar 17, 1838.

"Having tried Dr. Hull's Instrument for the cure of Prolapsus and Procidentia Uteri, I am glad to express a highly favorable opinion of its utility In a severe case of entire Procidentia, lately under treatment at Guy's Hospital, it was applied with marked success. Its great superiority over the pessary consists in its affording efficient support to the weak ned abdominal integuments, and in its external application, instead of its introduction into the vagina. I quite think it will accomplish a permanent cure better and more quickly than the pessary SAMUEL ASHWELL, M. D.

Obstetric Physician, and Lecturer to Guy's London.

Sir Astley Cooper, after the apparatus had been several months under his inspection, gave the following opinion for publication:—

"This apparatus is beautiful for its simplicity; it is an acquisition to practice. The principle of its operation is quite original and perfect. I shall advise its use, and make use of it in my own practice, in preference to anything I have seen."

The above valuable instrument can be found at the Medical store of the undersigned, who is the agen. for the sale of the same in Wisconsin. A. F. CLARKE,
